HIGH FREIGHT RATES AFFECT SUGAR PRICES

Willett & Gray's Journal (N. Y.), September 26: The week under review shows a declining tendency to all quotations at home and abroad as this is the last week in which old crop beet sugars will fix valuations.

The new beet crop quotations which come into the actual selling basis in October are much below the September basis of old crop sugar and there will be an equalizing of values on the October beet basis after this week. The new crop prices, incline to advance a little from their recent low point of 9s. 7 1/4d. probably because the short interests on the sugar exchanges have been forced to pay full up quotations to fulfil their contracts.

These contracts must be covered in September but, by our information, the principal bull operator has been buying for October-December deliveries to a considerable extent, which may tend to prevent the decline to 9s. for new crop, which has been expected by some parties abroad.

The crop conditions under actual harvesting will have an important influence on prices. F. O. Licht's "commercial" estimate of European beet crops is given herewith and is favorable for an increase of 2,179,000 tons over last year and 410,000 tons over the previous large crop of 1910-11.

Our local market quotations for 96 deg. centrifugals declined 13 cents per 100 lbs. to 4.17c. per lb. on sales of about 60,000 bags, afloat and for prompt shipment, at 2 1/2c. and 2 13-16c. c. & f. basis, and closing quiet at the lowest quotation, the equivalent of 4.17c. per lb., duty paid, which is close to the cost of new crop Beet sugars.

Weather reports from Cuba are favorable for new crop. One central is still working on old crop, the week's receipts of which were 3,000 tons for entire island.

Weather reports from Europe are also favorable for crop making. A few fabricants in the different beet countries are already at work.

Our domestic Beet crop will be in harvesting condition to some considerable extent in various States early in October if the weather conditions remain favorable, and the crop promises to be exceptionally large this season.

Louisiana Centrifugals for November shipment are offered at equal to 4c. delivered New York.

New crop Cuba Centrifugals are talked about, with intimation of sellers at 2 1/2c. c. & f. for January and 2 1/4c. for February-March shipments, but buyers wait for a settling to a lower basis.

No Javass appear to be on offer. Several invoices of Philippine sugars for September clearance are for sale at 3.35c. to 3.45c., basis 88 deg., and not taken.

At the close the market holds quiet and steady at current quotations, with light offerings of Centrifugals.

October shipments of European Beet sugar are for sale at 10s. 6d. to 10s. 9d. c. & f. to New York, the parity of 4.125c. to 4.15c. landed for 96 deg. test Centrifugals. These prices may appear to be too high as compared with the cable quotations for October option contracts, which are for delivery f. o. b. Hamburg, but it must be remembered that freights are at present 3d. to 4 1/2d. per cwt. higher than formerly, and if the freights are likely to continue high, we must accordingly readjust our parity table of Beet and Centrifugal values.

MAUI NOTES

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

WAILUKU, October 11.—The Maui Democrats have been getting busy the last few days, and now have their final slate ready. There are one or two positions still left blank but those offices so far filled are as follows:

Delegate to Congress, L. L. McCandless, Senators: Thomas Clark of Wailuku, and David K. Kahaulelio of Lahaina. Representatives: Sam Kuni, M. C. Ross, S. K. Kekoaui, John K. Halemano, and Noa Kamakua. County Officers:

Board of Supervisors: Wm. J. Coelho, chairman, E. K. Devauchelle, Nelson Kaloa, John M. Bright, The fifth supervisor, blank. Sheriff, H. C. Mossman; County Attorney, J. M. Vivas; County Auditor, Morris K. Koehaka-lolo.

The pipes for the Makawao and Paia branch of the Kula pipe line are lying along the road from Makawao to Lower Paia. This long line looks promising for a permanent water supply for the most thickly settled portion of Makawao. The new supply will be of the greatest convenience not only, but of the greatest assistance also to good sanitation and the health of the community.

Mrs. J. C. Ross, Jr., leaves on the Honolulu tomorrow for an extended trip to the mainland. She will take her daughter Alice with her. She expects to go to the Middle States, visiting her relatives while away. She has made her plans to be gone some months.

James Dougherty of the firm of Wall & Dougherty is now on his annual trip to Maui. He had the finest display of jewelry and precious stones ever seen on the island at the Maui Hotel last week.

Heavy rains in the mountains this week help the water supply. There have been no heavy showers for some time in the plains of Central Maui. Fortunately the ditches and pipe lines keep well supplied from the mauka rains.

Rev. M. G. Santos, who has been on Maui some eight some eight years, left a few days ago with his family for Hilo. Here he will be the pastor of the Hilo Portuguese Church. He leaves behind him a large number of very warm friends.

KAUMAKAPILI CHURCH WINDOWS DEDICATED

In memory of the late Rev. Lowell D. Smith and Mrs. Smith, organizers of the Kaumakapili church, and early missionaries to Oahu who did so much work toward the spread of Christianity among the native Hawaiians, dedication ceremonies for the memorial windows were held yesterday afternoon at the Kaumakapili church at which a large attendance was present.

The windows were presented by the Dillingham family, the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, and are in three sets, costing in the neighborhood of three thousand dollars.

The services were opened by an anthem rendered by the church choir, and following this Rev. S. W. Kekuewa delivered the invocation, and Rev. H. K. Poepeo read from the Scriptures. The acceptance of the memorial windows on behalf of the church followed. K. K. Kapauna, and the dedication prayer was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Erdman, the anthem being sung by the girls of Kamehameha school. The address of the day was delivered in Hawaiian by Rev. O. H. Gulick. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. K. Poal.

One of the principle incidents of the service was the historical statement by the Revs. J. P. Erdman and Akaioka Akana. This statement dealt with a biography of the two missionaries they had done toward the spreading of Christianity among the Hawaiians.
